

ElopeToCoronadoBeach.com

Sample Wedding Ceremony
Sample Wedding Vows

from ElopeToCoronadoBeach.com

shared with you from Christine and Steve Haslet
We offer San Diego's Original & Affordable Elopement Packages on Coronado Beach !

A Coronado Elopement Ceremony
One of our Pet Friendly Weddings Held on Coronado Dog Beach!

More info about Dog Beach Weddings with Christine and Steve on our website: <http://www.aceremonytoremember.net/pets.html>

WEDDING CEREMONY
OF
Amy and Mark

Today you are surrounded by your family and friends, all of whom are gathered to witness your marriage and to share in the joy of this occasion, which should be one of the most memorable and happiest days of your life. You have chosen to include not only your human friends and family, but your family of the animals you share your life with. Freckles and Boomer.

We know that the love you share with them make them very much a part of your "family"

You each bring to this marriage your own personality and spirit to form a union created by friendship, respect and love. Although marriage symbolizes the intimate sharing of two lives, it should not diminish but enhance each individuals spirit. A lasting marriage should continually grow in understanding and respect. Consideration of each other's feelings and needs grows out of truly caring for the other.

Because of this caring that you share, it is then possible to share the joys and successes as well as the sorrows and failures.

You must give of each other in love but not to the point that you not give yourself away. A relationship that is good and balanced is one in which neither person is overpowered or absorbed or over shadowed by the other. It is a union that is equal in strength and fragility which is born and reborn over the years.

The constant change and growth will keep your marriage a work in progress.

As is the custom on this occasion
to give and receive gifts,
Amy and Mark wish these gifts
that they may share together:

~ steadily deepening love which grows and blossoms, one that is full of mutual respect and unselfishness

~ lots of patience as they learn about each other

~the ability to communicate openly and freely... so that they may be nurtured and saved from hurtful words spoken in anger

~ the strength to avoid grudges that are sometimes nurtured in silence

~a sense of humor that they may laugh
at themselves and with others

~the strength and courage as they face life's sorrows

~a sense of values to care more for people than possessions,
for honor more than honors, and for a home rather than a house

~ and a good memory that they may remember the path that led them to each other

~the good sense to share all of the responsibilities that come with being Freckles and Boomers mom and dad.

~we ask that they know when it's their turn to take the dogs out, and they happily own up to it when it happens to be the middle of the night.

As you know no minister, priest, rabbi or public official or dog catcher can marry you. Only you can marry each other by making a mutual commitment to each other. The vows you are about to exchange represent your pledge to each other.

For it is not the words that bind you together as one,

but it is the love and commitment
each of you feel deep within your soul.

Mark, do you take Amy to be your wedded wife and dog mom? Will you love, comfort, honor and respect her?
Will you share all life has to offer, your hopes and dreams, your achievements and disappointments with her from this day forward?

Amy, do you take Mark to be your wedded husband and dog dad?

Will you love, comfort, honor, and respect him?
Will you share all life has to offer, your hopes and dreams,

your achievements and disappointments
with him from this day forward?

The vows which have been exchanged are but words that are fleeting and the sound of them is soon gone. The wedding rings become an enduring symbol of the promises which have been made.

Mark, will you repeat after me: With this ring I thee
wed, as a symbol of my commitment to you.

Amy, will you repeat after me: With this ring I thee wed, as a symbol of my commitment to you.

I now pronounce you husband and wife.

You may seal your vows with a kiss.

It is my pleasure to present to you Amy and Mark Alexander as husband and wife, and Boomer and Freckles parents!

Brought to you by:

Steve and Christine Haslet

Your San Diego and Coronado Elopement Specialists

info@elopesandiego.com

858 945 8341

<http://www.ElopeToCoronadoBeach.com>

check us out on YOUTUBE !

OUR LINK IS RIGHT HERE: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=iSMY\_PDyljY feel free to visit our sister sites:

<http://www.ElopeSanDiego.com>

<http://www.SanDiegoMilitaryWeddings.com>

<http://www.aceremonytoremember.net>

<http://www.sandiegomarriagelicense.com>

Services we offer:

Dog Beach weddings Coronado, san diego beach weddings, help obtaining your marriage license, san diego officiants, gorgeous wedding photography, no drama-no stress elopements, EASY elopes in san diego, affordable elopement packages in san diego, pet friendly weddings, elope to san diego, eloping in san diego, elope san diego, san diego vows, free san diego vows for your wedding, military weddings in san diego, military discount weddings, eloping to san diego, last minute weddings in san diego,budget wedding packages san diego